BRITISH CHAMPION BARRED FROM COMPETITIVE GOLF

The announcement of the Ladies' Golf Union of Great Britain that Enid Wilson had been barred from competitive golf came as a shock to the golf world. Enid Wilson, British women's golf champion, and one of the leading players of the world, was declared ineligible to defend her title this year because of violation of the amateur code. Miss Wilson writes for a London newspaper, but got herself in hot water when she invited girl golfers to send in photographs of themselves making various shots and she would then point out the faults of their technique. At the left Miss Wilson is shown winning her first British title. Below, an enthusiastic gallery watches her make a terrific drive to capture her second championship, and at top right, Miss Wilson sits by the coveted trophy after annexing her third title.

THE CHIEF SCOUT RETURNS HOME AFTER HEALTH TOUR

Lord and Lady Baden-Powell are shown returning to England after a long cruise in the Mediterranean with two Scouts and Guides. Lord Baden-Powell, who has been seriously ill, is shown being assisted by Lady Baden-Powell. The Chief Scout is to visit Canada next year if his health permits.

HUNTED EX-PRESIDENT

Sought by U.S. Federal agents for extradition to Cuba on a warrant charging him with the murder of his political opponents, Gerardo Machado, former dictatorial President of Cuba, is missing from his New York sanctuary. Federal authorities ordered close watch at seaports and the borders of Canada and Mexico for the ex-President.

USE SNOW PLOWS FOR DUST

RED OAK, Ia.—Snow plows were busy in Montgomery county, following the recent dust storm that lashed the state of Nebraska and Iowa and left the roads in this county clogged with dust. In some places one to three feet deep. The snow plows were called out to clear the roads.

The common oak and the sessile oak dominated the primeval forests of Ireland, remnants of the sessile oak being found today in the ancient forest of Binnaleah and in Ormeau wood near Limerick.

Here and There

The British Columbia Chapter of the I. O. O. F. held its "coming of age" meeting at the Empress Hotel, Victoria, recently, at its twenty-first annual convention. Premier Pattullo welcomed delegates from all over the province, and many distinguished guests were present.

The annual reduction in cost of summer railway travel under the heading of low summer fares, will be put into effect by the Canadian Pacific Railway on May 15th next, according to official announcement. The reduced fares will have extensive limits and stopovers.

Port Hope, on the south bank of the Finner River, sixty miles from Vancouver by the Canadian Pacific, is a place where the Almighty has most lavishly set down a land of wonderful beauty rivers and lakes abounding in game fish, writes B. Ross Kennedy, editor of Western Fishery.

Dr. Frank N. D. Buchanan, leader of the Oxford Group movement, is expected to launch another campaign in western Canada this Spring, commencing at Winnipeg May 1, before he goes to Regina, Saskatoon, Calgary, Edmonton, Vancouver and Victoria, and culminating with a selective "house party" at the Bear Springs Hotel early in June.

The success of low cost all-expense tours in the Canadian Rockies initiated by Canadian Pacific Railway last summer has prompted the company to repeat these four, five and six-day trips during the coming summer. Each trip affords 125 miles of motor-ing, and can be made either south-bound from Field, B.C., or north-bound from Banff, Alberta, at the convenience of passengers.

A. C. Leighton, B.N.A., president of the government art college at Calgary, who will again this summer hold his summer art school for selected students from the Province of Alberta at the Banff House, near Banff, has picked a location surrounded by the most magnificent of Rocky Mountain scenery.

The skunk is not the king of the woods, says George Corran, naturalist, addressing the Kiwanis Club at the Royal York Hotel recently. "Hold him up by his tail," said Mr. Corran, "and he will become innocuous. He didn't tell the Kiwanis if he had actually accomplished this feat."

Toronto got its full measure of music-makers lately when the most famous bandmasters of the continent assembled at the Royal York Hotel for their annual convention. Captain Charles O'Neill was the president and they came from all parts of the United States and Canada.

Owing to the smaller 1933 harvest and the lower numbers of hogs and poultry on farms, less wheat was fed to live stock and poultry in the crop season 1933-34. A preliminary estimate gives 16,982,000 bushels fed to live stock compared with a final estimate of 21,996,000 bushels in 1932-33.

When helping farmers to prevent outbreaks of insects in stored grain, officers of the Entomological Branch, Dominion Dept. of Agric., have found the following insects in farmers' granaries—saw-tooth grain beetle, rusted four beetle, flat grain beetle, rusted grain beetle, foreign grain beetle, rice or black weevil, granary weevil, cadelle, meal worms, psocids, mites, two-banded fungus beetle, and others.

PRECIOUS GLASS OF WATER

University of Michigan Values It At Ten Thousand Dollars

The most precious glassful of water in the world—$10,000 worth—is under lock and key in the University of Michigan laboratories, guarded as jealously as radium.

It is "heavy water" in its pure state deuterium oxide, discovered only two years ago and valuable in the treatment of cancer. Prof. J. C. Halford, Leif C. Andersen and John R. Bates have worked out a plan to increase the university's valuable supply to two quarts within two years.

A report on the process was given at the meeting of the American Chemical Society in St. Petersburg, Fla. Prof. Halford hopes that the water may some day prove valuable in curing the ailments of old age.

SOME IDIOTIC CONTENTS

Crazed For Needles Threading Is Most Foolish One Yet

We are told by the ladies who write pieces for the paper that the needle-threading craze has reached Vancouver.

This entertaining form of folly consists of an open competition in which the contestants vie with each other in seeing which one can jam the most threads through the eye of a needle.

We have had successively dance marathons, rocking chair marathons, hog-calling contests, rolling pin hearing matches, flapping sitting, piano playing marathons and even horse contests.

But we respectfully submit that this frenzy for threading needles is the mostinine one of the lot.

Idiotic contests seem to be in our blood. We just can't shake them off so let's establish another one.

Instead of competing with each other to see who can dance longest or call a hog the loudest, why not compete to see who can devise the nuttiest kind of a contest to keep the girls busy?—Vancouver Sun.

AUSTRIAN ROYALIST

A recent photo of Duke Max Von Hohenberg, monarchic son of the late Archduke Franz Ferdinand of Austria, whose murder at Sarajevo precipitated the World War. Duke Max is an active supporter of Archduke Otto, pretender to the throne of Austria.

BRITISH SOCIALIST

Colonel Josiah Wedgwood, British Laborite, who deplored the failure of the British budget for 1934 to make provision for payment of the war debt.

ACCUSED

Major Gerald Campbell, British Consul General in New York, who was accused by Representative F. Britton of Illinois, of attempting to influence "United States" naval construction legislation. Britton demanded the Consul's recall. Maj. Campbell denied he had ever spoken or written against the U.S. naval programme.

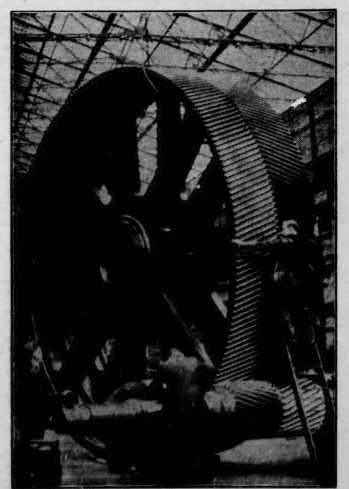

LORD HIGH ALMONER DISTRIBUTES KING'S MAUNDY

Above is pictured the Archbishop of Canterbury, as Lord High Almoner to the King, after he had distributed the King's Maundy at Westminster Abbey to 60 aged men and 60 aged women. The Archbishop is standing between Princess Marie Louise and Princess Helena Victoria. Behind him is the Dean of Westminster.

"DONNYBROOK" AT A HITLER FETE

Police officers are shown battling anti-Hitler rioters who attempted to break up a meeting of the "Friends of New Germany" in Brooklyn to celebrate the birthday of Germany's Nazi Chancellor. One rioter is on the ground, while another on the sidewalk is squaring up to a policeman. He is about to make the mistake of leading with his right.

A GIANT IN GEAR WHEELS

This giant gear wheel is shown being assembled at West Drayton, England. It is 38 feet 7 1/2 inches blank diameter, has 222 double helical teeth and weighs 37 tons. When completed it will be shipped to Australia for the new Shovel Mills of Mount Lyngsight, Australia.
